Need Bedroom Furniture?

Some stores give a great deal of attention to the showing of parlor, library and dining-room furniture, and slight that of the bedroom. Not so here! Our stock of bedroom furniture is just as complete and varied as any of our other lines.

We have all the new styles in bedroom suites, a splendid variety of odd bedroom pieces and one of the handsomest stocks of metal bedsteads in the state. You'll sure find what's wanted here—prices just as low as good storekeeping will allow.

We have just received another large shipment of the new Wall Papers. Colorings and Patterns very attractive. Come and look over a large stock, where you can see the paper by the roll and get the effect upon the wall. Do not be satisfied with just a book sample.

with pride to the superior quality of our bread. It is a mistaken fallacy that it is economical to bake your own bread. There is no bread that is so economical in purchase nor so satisfactory in use as ours. Give it one trial and you will never bake again. Its unvarying quality and tastiness are sure to appeal to you.

"The Place That Grew from Quality"

A Commendation of Fletcher.

The Monitor has been no Fletcher champion but the governor has won our admiration in many respects. From a legislator whose reputation was that of being "on the fence" in many matters he has developed some real backbone, a thing a good many of our governors have lost after the campaign. Take the telephone matters which have come up during his administration and over which much of the newspaper criticism has developed. A large petition came to Governor Fletcher asking for relief from telephone rates that the subscribers believed to be unwarranted. Would any of the newspapers say that he should have pigeonholed it? He acted the part of a governor and authorized special counsel to investigate and report. Their report stated that there should be a reduction in rates. Was the governor to pocket the report then? He passed it up to the public service commission as a governor should. The public service commission was not acting as the governor believed a Vermont public service commission should act, not only in respect to this subject but in regard to others. He believed a change in the commission would be for the best interests of the state. He then removed certain members of that commission and appointed others in their stead as a governor has a right to do. This commission held an exhaustive hearing on the subject and has rendered a report. The telephone company appeals. What is there criminal, or irregular, or unlawful, or out of place, or out of order for a governor to do in these proceedings? At what step would those papers which so strenuously criticize Governor Fletcher have had him stop? The Monitor has not yet seen him accused of starting the petition in the first place.—Barton Monitor.

Frank Passera of the granite manufacturing firm of Passera Bros. of Williamstown, who lost his right arm a week ago as the result of being caught in the shafting at his plant, was able to leave the City hospital to-day for his home. He is making rapid recovery following the amputation of his arm three inches below the shoulder.

A large crowd attended the Nelson auction sale Saturday afternoon on Trow hill; property sold well and to the satisfaction of the owner and the buying public. A nine-year-old mare brought $167; a two-year-old heifer brought $45; three other cows coming in next fall and winter averaged about $40; farm wagon, $39.50; other farm tools and property in about the same proportion. C. F. Smith, auctioneer.

William McLean of Brooklyn, N. Y., a former resident of Barre, arrived in the city Saturday for an extended visit with friends. Mr. McLean has been spending the winter at Scottstown, P. Q., in the vicinity of Lake Megantic and other lakes in the extreme eastern part of the Quebec province. Mr. McLean devoted considerable of his time to trapping, which varied success. This is the first visit of McLean to Barre in 15 years.

William T. Maiden, a student at the University of Vermont, arrived in the city last night to pass a few days at the home of his mother, Mrs. Marion Maiden, of West street. Mr. Maiden is a member of the University of Vermont baseball team, which has been touring some of the southern states during the past two weeks. During the trip Maiden played right field and shortstop for the varsity players, his hitting being one of the features of the trip. The Vermont team ended its trip at Washington Saturday, being defeated by the Catholic university in a 10-inning battle. The players left Washington at midnight on Saturday and traveled continuously until last evening. Maiden will return to Burlington on Tuesday to resume his studies at the opening of the spring term.

Looking for a good show? One can be found at the Pavilion to-day. The great Lavesuer is the feature. This man is without doubt the strongest man in the world in his line of work. He lifts 3,257 pounds with ease and does several other stunts worth seeing. Some six weeks ago while playing Montpelier, Mr. Lavesuer held two pairs of the largest horses owned by the city four minutes steady pull. He will do a similar stunt here. Watch for announcement of the time and place. Mr. Lavesuer has held two automobiles, also two of the largest electric cars as easily as he will hold these horses. Up to the present time this man has found no limit to his strength. He stands ready to back up any statement he makes. Don't fail to see this wonder.—Adv.
